Mackensen Leaves For the West Front

(By United Press)

Paris, April 4—Newspaper dispatches say Mackensen has left for the west front.

PLANS ITALIAN ATTACK

Ludendorff Preparing For Drive, Says British Expert.

General Maurice Asserts That Great Battles of 1918 Have Only Just Begun.

London, April 4—Major General F. B. Maurice, chief director of military operations, in his weekly talk says: "There are indications that an Austrian attack on Italy is in preparation and we shall not be surprised if it develops before long."

"Ludendorff is beginning to prepare the German people for a very big butchery bill," General Maurice declared, commenting on the changed tone of the German communiques.

"It is futile to suppose the operations are ended. It is now earlier than the beginning of the 1917 offensive. The whole 1918 campaigning season is ahead."

German Forces Congested.

"The Germans are in two main masses divided by the Somme," Maurice said.

"There is a great state of congestion, which they are trying to reduce to order. Conditions are particularly bad for them in the northern area, thanks to the Third army's deliberate retirement and systematic destruction. For instance, they mined the Epauville-Arras road, leaving an enormous crater between two old craters.

"We are now continually bombing the enemy, which accounts for the enemy bringing up guns."

"All evidences are that the German losses are considerably heavier than ours."

"The enemy's report of guns captured on one side of the zone exceeds the total we had."

GETS ADDITIONAL SHIPS

Japan Agrees to Turn Over to U.S. 450,000 Tons.

Ambassador Morris Arranges for Tonnage Greatly in Excess of First Estimates.

Tokio, April 4.—An agreement has been concluded under which Japan will turn over to the United States 450,000 tons of shipping. It is learned from an authoritative source.

The amount of tonnage to be made available by Japan is considerably in excess of previous estimates. A dispatch received from Tokio said the amount was given by the Japanese newspapers as 250,000 tons.

Of this total 150,000 tons will be supplied immediately in return for no consideration except the chartering rates of the Allies. The Japanese government will make up the difference between this payment and the far eastern rate involving an expenditure of 18,000,000 men.

Another 100,000 tons of new ships will be delivered between May and December in exchange for an equal tonnage of steel. The remaining 200,000 tons will be turned over as constructed later upon terms which are mutually regarded as very satisfactory.

The plan was arranged by the American ambassador, Roland S. Morris, with the fullest cooperation on the part of the government and ship-builders.

TO STRENGTHEN ALLIED LINE

Americans to Play Noble Part in Death Drains, Lane Says.

Washington, April 4—American troops will thicken the Allied western line, now thin, the climax of the great drama of death will find America playing a noble part, contributing much by her sacrifice and devotion to beating down the German menace.

So declared Secretary of the Interior Lane in a speech opening the "Americanization conference" here.

"It is a thin line that holds the Kaiser back," he said, "but it is a line in which there is more of spirit and more of resolution than in any line the world has seen, because it has more to live for and more to die for than any group of men ever gathered together."

U. S. AIRMEN COMPLIMENTED

British War Office Says Their Service is Invaluable.

London, April 4—The British war office pays a compliment to American airmen in the official statement issued on aerial operations.

"During the last fortnight of intense fighting in the air," says the statement, "the assistance rendered by the personnel of the American air service attached to the Royal Air Service has been invaluable."

Seditious Preacher Sheared.

Sulphur, Okla., April 4—Because Rev. A. J. Capers, 72 years old, is alleged to have declared recently in Murray county he would never have his hair cut until Germany emerged victorious from the war, 60 young men of his vicinity, awaiting draft call, invaded Capers' room in a local hotel while he was asleep, and, with shears and a razor, shaved his head clean. His iron-gray locks were distributed among the party as trophies of war.

The minister was compelled to kiss the flag.

German Spies Murder Night Watchman For Public Information

(By United Press)

Washington, April 4—James King, night watchman for the committee on public information, was mysteriously murdered while on duty, presumably by German spies. The revolver he carried was snapped four times without exploding proving the struggle with his assailant. The murder occurred apparently between 4:30 and 5:30 this morning. No trace of the murderer has been found. A hurried search does not disclose that the murderer secured anything of highly valuable information which King was guarding. It has been learned that King and the negro janitor quarreled frequently, but the negro janitor is not here.

(By United Press)

Ukrainian German Forces Seeking Odessa Repulsed

(By United Press)

Petrograd, April 4—Ukrainian German forces seeking to recapture Odessa and Nikolaev were repulsed. The Turko-German fleet headed toward Odessa were driven back by the Russian Black Sea fleet.

The County Association of Teachers of Crow Wing county has consented to give up their evening meeting for April 12 and have turned over their speaker, Judge Frank T. Wilson of Stillwater and their program to the Food Administration of Crow Wing county, and the latter are grateful for the kindness shown.

County Food Administrator Andrew E. Berglund has followed a new scheme of organization work for the meeting which will be held in the Brainerd opera house. He has under organization a church committee representing all churches. In the name of the government there has been summoned all ministers of the county, one or two delegates from each farm club, each fraternal order, each society in the churches, together with as many food dealers as can be possibly gotten to the meeting. County Agent E. A. Colquhoun will cooperate in the matter and the telephone will be used.

There will be a roll call. This will be accomplished by sending seat checks to each of the individuals named with the statement that they are expected to be there in person or by an alternate, and that roll call will be held at a certain hour and vacant seats of course, will disclose the organizations and interests that are not represented.

"It is extremely important that we get this food message to just as many people as possible, especially at this moment when wheat is of such paramount importance," wrote Judge Wilson.

County Food Administrator Berglund is having his letters printed and addressed, assistance having been given him by the Brainerd Business College pupils.

NEW RULES FOR CENSORSHIP

Naming of American Troop Units in War Zone Prohibited.

With the American Army in France, April 4—The following are the most important provisions of the new censorship regulations which became effective at once:

"It is the policy that all information not helpful to the enemy may be given the public. The basic principle requires that all articles meet these four conditions:

"First—They must be accurate in statement and implication.

"Second—They must not supply military information to the enemy.

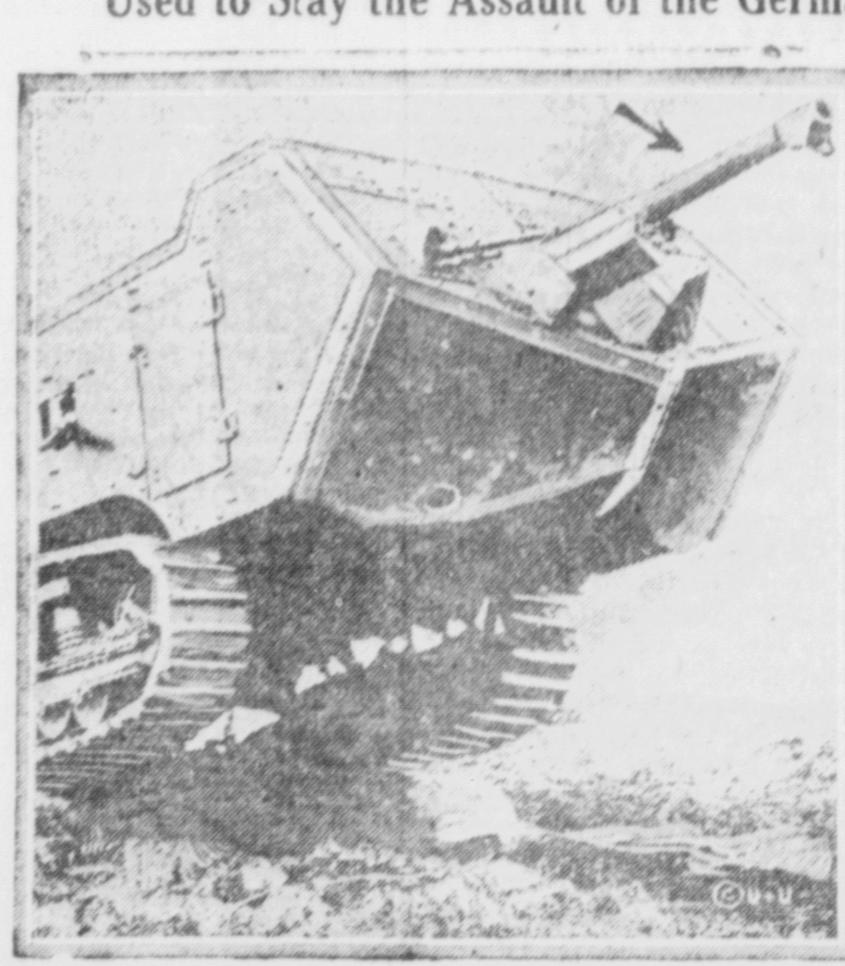

"Third—They must not injure the morale of our forces here or at home or among our allies.

"Fourth—They must not embarrass the United States or her allies in neutral countries.

The foregoing conditions apply to every article written. The specific rules which follow are intended to explain them, but never to be considered as permitting the publication of anything which conflicts with those four conditions."

Steel Shortage Delays Ship Building.

Washington, April 4—The government shipyard at Hog Island, Pa., is short 50,000 tons of steel which should have been at the plant two weeks ago, for laying keys for new ships. The Senate commerce committee was told by George J. Baldwin, chairman of the board for the American International Shipbuilding corporation. The attention of the shipping board has been called to the shortage and it also has been presented to the war industries board and the priority board, Baldwin says.

This new tank was completed by the French in time to take into the battle now raging on the Somme and for fifty miles up and down the British lines. Its chief feature is the new heavy gun, heavier than anything heretofore built on a tank. The arrow on the picture points to the gun. At the sides there are the usual machine guns, which have been used on tanks before.

Musk a Chinese Monopoly.
Musk is one product of world commerce in which China practically enjoys a monopoly—not a large one, to be sure, since the annual output is at best only some $400,000 gold, but the product itself is worth many times its weight in silver, and for that matter, gold as well, in these days of high exchange, says the Far Eastern Review, Chungking.

A review of the home talent play aiding the Y. M. C. A. and its war work will be printed in Friday's Dispatch. A crowded house greeted the production. Unusual features which created interest were the four minute talks by the soldiers from the world war who in vivid language portrayed the desolation in France and the conviction that the Allies in their coming drive would soon turn the tables on the Germans.

The music at the Best accompanying the presentation of "The Kaiser, the Beast of Berlin," is a feature and treat. The orchestra includes Julius Witham, violinist and leader; Wm. The score was selected by Mr. Witham and meets every demand of the intense situations revealed in the play. WOMAN'S REALM

"THE MAN ON THE BOX" SHOW

Senior Class Play at Brainerd Opera House Friday Night, Specialties Between Acts

CAST GIVEN OF THE COMEDY

The Girls in the Specialties—Synopsis of "The Man on the Box" Given

The Seniors of the high school will present "The Man on the Box" at the Park opera house on Friday evening.

This play, more than any other that has been given by high school classes in recent years, is decidedly humorous. In the first place, the hero, instead of being a dashing society man, is a soldier lately resigned, who takes the part of a butler as the result of a practical joke.

As he is a "good scout" he carries out the joke for a whole month, although it is pretty hard going most of the time, especially as the heroine takes advantage of every opportunity to make his life miserable.

Imagine waiting on table when your former colonel is there to make you uncomfortable, or helping a French chef to fix a stovepipe when you are accustomed to give orders instead of taking them.

When the situation is almost unbearable, Worburton stumbles upon a serious case of treachery against the U. S. government and resolves to "stick it out" until the affair is cleared up, despite the very evident enmity of the heroine at this stage of the game. No one can help but admire the endless patience of the hero, played by Walter Cleary.

The young and charming heroine is a practical joker who delights in seeing Worburton suffer, and invents one fleshly scheme after the other to test his patience and penetrate his disguise. His manner of evading her schemes furnishes much of the humor of the play. The part of Betty is taken by Clover Sabin.

Probably the funniest scene is the flirtation between the judge and Mrs. Conway, as played by Alice Smith and Clifford Larson, for the judge is so very flattered by the lady's attentions.

Between the acts there will be some new and original specialties by the Senior girls.

The class has been working hard for several months on the play and hope to please the public. Whatever they realize from the play they will put into their memorial to be presented to the school for the benefit of future classes and the general public whenever they attend any affairs at the school.

The prices are 50 and 35 cents for reserved seats and the usual "two bits" for seats in the gallery.

Following are the people in the specialties:

NOT CALCULATED TO CHEER

Invitation to Prospective Soldiers to Purchase Cemetery Lots Criticized as in Poor Taste.

Down in south Jersey they are wide awake. The hour of the Jersey clocks had not gone twice around the dial after 300 newly drafted men in a certain city had been called for physical examination when the postman brought to each of them an invitation to buy a cemetery lot. The invitation read as follows:

"Which is the better time to consider a matter of this character? Now, when there is ample time for calm, deliberate selection or later, perhaps, when there is a necessity? Experience has proved the former the better course; there is a satisfaction in owning an unused plot, and in knowing you have relieved others of a responsibility."

There are possibilities for the humorist in this, as anyone feels like getting fun out of it. Probably it does not seem funny to the young men about to be taken from their work and their wonted ways of daily living to go into the trenches.

The clerk of the county is going to investigate the manner in which the names got out, and it may not be funny then for the people who sent out these cheerful invitations.

Somebody ought to investigate, while investigation is in order, the psychology of these Jersey geniuses.—New York Tribune.

LIVING HIGHEST IN NATIONAL CAPITAL

PROFITEERING IN RENTS HAS BEEN CHECKED, BUT OTHER RAPACIOUSNESS GOES ON.

TOO MANY CLERKS HIRED

Senate's New Rule on New Matter in Conference Reports Put Into Effect Quickly in Considering the Railroad Bill.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington.—The crowded condition of Washington has given rise to a great deal of discussion, and there is much concern as to whether the city will be able to house the continued influx of people if the government does not call a halt upon the employment of so many additional clerks. The over-crowded condition has caused a tremendous increase in the cost of living, and it has been shown by comparative statistics that it costs from 15 to 25 per cent more to live in Washington than in other cities.

A part of living cost is due to the increase in rents, which has grown to such an extent that the house of representatives has passed a bill to stop the profiteering in that line, and it has been suggested that other measures should be taken to save one part of the population of the capital city against the rapaciousness of another element.

In the discussions of the conditions in Washington it has been charged that at least one-third more clerks have been employed than are necessary and that thousands of them are sitting around the offices, the newly acquired buildings, and the various buildings which have been rented for the government, doing nothing a great deal of the time. While this is true to some extent, no one can tell just how far it goes. It is the inevitable consequence of the rush to organize an army and get the country ready for a big war.

The senate had an opportunity to put its new rule into effect sooner than it expected. This new rule was proposed by Senator Curtis of Kansas and provided for the defeat of a conference report if it contained legislation which had not been considered either in the senate or house. Hereto-for it has been the practice of conferees, three men from the senate and three from the house, appointed to compose the differences between the two bodies on my bill that has been passed, to put in anything that they desired. The new rule had not been adopted many days before a conference report came back on the railroad bill and a point of order was made against a provision limiting the power of the states by the railroads by the states. Vice President Marshall, who does not dodge questions, promptly sustained the point of order and on an appeal was upheld by the senate. It was rather interesting to observe that not a single Republican voted to overturn the vice president. Those who disagreed with Marshall were members of his own party to the number of 23.

The point is, those luxuries, those extravagances, those non-essentials are virtually essential to the millions of men and the families of the men whose jobs depend on the making of our twentieth-century vehicle.

DO WELL TO SPEND

Lecturer Upholds Extravagance of the Wealthy.

Lavish Expenditure for Luxuries Means that the Prosperity of the Country Is Assured, Is Assertion He Makes.

"Because we are the most luxury-loving people on earth, we are also the richest; therefore we have been called upon to finance and to fight to a finish this most extravagant of all wars, and we are able to do it," said E. Leroy Pelletier, speaking on "Prosperity," at Detroit.

"We hear a lot nowadays to the effect that we Americans are a wasteful and extravagant people. And it is said by way of condemnation, or at least of reproof. Yet when the war had been precipitated by the most frugal people on earth—except the more primitive races of savages—the extravagant nation was asked to finance and to prosecute the war to a successful finish.

"We expect to do this from the surplus left from our extravagance. Yes! And it is because of our extravagance that we have the money to do it.

"China has great resources. Why are not the Chinese wealthy? Because they have worn the same style of clothes for a thousand years, and have subsisted on one diet—plain rice! The Japanese tried the same form of frugality for centuries and just managed to subsist. When they began to copy American 'extravagances' they became a world power.

Music a War Horror.

A grim story is told of an air raid on Paris. If its truth were not vouched for by the most respectable authority one would say that it was an invention of De Maupassant in his most macabre vein. While the work of rescue was going on by candle light in one of the houses which had suffered most the crowd was suddenly horrified by the defiant notes of the "Rakoczy March," blared out apparently by a strong brass band.

Every one was aghast at so brutal an insult till the tenant of a flat on an upper floor said that he had an orchestra which played that particular tune. The explosion must have set it in motion. At the risk of their lives some firemen managed to reach the machine, but in the dark, and not knowing about its mechanism, they could not stop it. It went on till the floor on which it stood collapsed.

Women to Prove Their Heroism.

What with keeping the wolf from her own door and helping France, her next door neighbor, keep from her premises the groundhogs who have overrun Europe, England has been having a tolerably busy time. But, undaunted, she is now engaged in a crusade to keep the rats from her food, according to an address on the war service being rendered by the women of England which was recently delivered before the women's department of the National Civic federation.

If in listing the residences of the rodent population of 40,000,000 upon whom war is being relentlessly waged the women served as census takers and went without chairs upon which to stand at the first sound of a mouse's squeak, it is evidence of the heights of heroism to which the necessities of battle have lifted them.

Gulls as Submarine Detectors.

Dr. A. D. Penz, Jr., of New Brighton, L. I., has developed a plan for using gulls to disclose the presence of submarines. He suggests that hoppers 54 inches long be made of sheet steel and bolted to the tops of submarines, to be filled with chopped fish, which may be released from time to time by means of a crank apparatus inside the vessel. In this way gulls will be taught to associate submarines with food and will gather clamorously over any submarine that may appear in the water. The scheme has the endorsement of the National Association of Audubon Societies and is receiving serious attention from the United States naval authorities.

PEACE TALK IS LITTLE PREVIOUS

CHARACTERISTIC OF AMERICAN PEOPLE TO DISCUSS THINGS BEFORE NEED ARISES.

SMITH TO QUIT THE SENATE

Michigan Senator Announces His Intention Voluntarily to Retire to Private Life—Indians Take Large Part in Various War Activities.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington.—When war was about to be declared against Germany nearly a year ago there were many expressions to this effect: "I hope it will not be necessary to send a single American soldier abroad," or, "It will probably be unnecessary to sacrifice American troops in this war," or, "It is to be hoped that the war will be ended before we become actively engaged in it."

The Congressional Record contains many such utterances made by members of both houses before and after war was declared. On nearly every war measure during the last session some pro-peace men would give utterance to an expression similar to those quoted.

Beyond question there has been a lingering hope in the minds of many Americans that the war might be ended before the United States became actively engaged in it. That hope is now dissipated.

It has been said of the American people that they are often "too previous," that is, they are too anxious to do things, too apt to anticipate, and with the desire that generally possesses mankind to be prophets they are apt to discuss things long before there is any necessity for considering them.

Probably that accounts for the amount of peace talk that was heard just about the time when the Americans began fighting the Germans.

"The mistake which our people are making now," said one of the shrewdest men who could be called a military expert, "is that we begin to talk peace before we really begin fighting. We not only talk of peace, but we begin to discuss what we are going to do after the war. It is too early to talk peace and it is too early to talk about conditions or what we will do when the war closes."

Senator Townsend of Michigan and Congressman Esch of Wisconsin were both conferees on the important railroad bill. Ten or twelve years ago these two names were coupled together because they jointly prepared what was known as the Esch-Townsend interstate commerce law. That bill was pending in congress for some time and finally it was remodeled somewhat and re-introduced by Congressman Hepburn of Iowa, then chairman of the interstate and foreign commerce committee of the house. And when it was enacted into law it was known for some time as the Hepburn bill, although in reality it was the original Esch-Townsend bill. Neither Senator Townsend nor Congressman Esch believes in the new railroad bill, and did everything in their power to have it amended. Both of them think that the interstate commerce commission should be given more power instead of shorn of power.

LIBERTY LOAN HONOR FLAG

If your town does not fly an honor flag, there will be something radically wrong.

The display of this honor flag will mean that your community has over-subscribed its quota of Third Liberty Loan Bonds and that it has been placed on the government's roll of honor.

The flag will be 36 inches wide and 54 inches long. The body of the flag will be white with a broad, red border and three broad, blue, vertical stripes, denoting the Third Loan. They will be of the same quality as the flags of the navy.

Although awarded by the Treasury Department, they will be distributed to towns of the Ninth District from the office of the general executive committee in Minneapolis.

There will also be a National Honor Flag for each state, to be flown at the state capitol, with the name of each town winning a flag inscribed upon it. There will be also preserved in the United States treasury a National Honor Flag, with the record of each state recorded on it.

See that your city wins an honor flag.

INDIANS NO LONGER OUTCASTS

Red Man Has Taken His Place With Other Respected Members of American Social Life.

In the annual report of Cato Sells, commissioner of Indian affairs, this is said:

"Evidences of material and humanitarian advancement are everywhere apparent. Industrially and socially, the Indians are making unparalleled strides toward self-support and civilization. I have discovered that with sympathetic co-operation and intelligent encouragement their response is almost universal."

Within the last few years 42,110 Indian families have forsaken the tepee to live in houses. The tribal Indian rapidly is becoming "individualized." His red past is only a few years behind him, but it is in the past. The government no longer believes that wars with the Indians are possible. The question of peace with them is an answered one, and all that remains is to make of the Indian a self-supporting, self-respecting member of American society.

It has been said that the red past of the Indian is only a few years behind him. How strikingly this is shown by the fact that today many officers of the United States army below the rank of brigadier general wear the ribbon which shows that they have seen active service in warfare against the Apache, the Sioux, the Cheyenne, or other tribes of mountain and plain. It probably will be hard today to find any irreconcilables among the Indians of the West, unless the search be extended into the tepees of the ancients who grew to old age in a condition of roners and warriors, and in whom nature forbids a change to take place.

YANKEES DRIVE ON DESPITE MUD

Spattered American Columns Make No Complaint—Eager to Face Enemy.

U. S. TO SPEED DRAFT

To Summon Men in Second Call More Rapidly Than Previously Planned, Due to Brigading With Allies —French Re-inforced.

With the American Army in France, April 4.—An extraordinary heavy gas attack has been made on American troops on a curtain sector other than that in the region of Toul.

With American Army in France, April 4.—As their movement toward the big battle front is speeded up, mud-spattered American columns after three days of rain have flooded this region, make no complaints.

The trenches which the Americans are holding in this sector are miniature rivers. The dugouts are half full of water, but their occupants, knowing their comrades are bound for the great fight, endure it with smiles. Foch's Appointment Please.

Throughout this zone there is the greatest satisfaction of General Foch's appointment as generalissimo and the fact American troops will be brigaded with the Allies. The big idea is to get into the fight—quick.

The enemy again bombarded the Toul front last night. Rain blocked other activities.

American patrols now are equipped with rubber crawling suits, permitting them to keep dry as they "snake" their way through the mud.

Reinforcements for French.

Washington, April 4.—An indication that heavy French reinforcements are being brought up rapidly to the point on the Western front where the Germans appear to have concentrated their strongest efforts to break thru is carried in information received at the British war mission from British headquarters in France.

The French forces, it was said, have extended their line to Thionville, near the Lorraine river. This enables the British to shorten their own line and to concentrate their forces.

U. S. to Speed Draft.

Measures to speed up the draft program are in contemplation and an official announcement is expected soon.

The intention is to meet the emergency in France. For that reason the $60,000 to be called this year will be called more rapidly than was previously planned.

War department officials said no arrangements were in sight to call out more than the $60,000 men it was planned to take into the service.

Reports that the draft would be raised from $60,000 men to 1,500,000 were denied.

2,500,000 by End of Year.

Officials do not regard it as possible that more men will be sent abroad this year than the department already has arranged to summon, even with additional British shipping made available as troop transports. There are now under arms here and in Europe more than 1,500,000 American soldiers. The number will have been raised to about 2,500,000 by the end of the year, counting drafted men, volunteers and special technical forces to be enlisted.

To Get Men Across Early.

If it is possible to get a total of 1,500,000 men to France by January 1 next, the best previous hopes of the War department will have been realized and there still will be a force of almost equal size in training here. The present effort is directed more towards getting men to France early in the year to meet emergencies there than toward increasing the number to be sent during the year.

AGREEMENT NOT EXPECTED

Conferences on Wheat Price Advance Not Likely to Get Together.

Washington, April 4.—Senate and House conferees have begun work on the agricultural appropriation bill with little prospect of an amendment to the Senate amendment increasing the government guarantee on wheat from $2 to $2.50 a bushel. It was tentatively agreed to have the House managers report a disagreement on the amendment, and if the House again rejects it, Senate leaders thought the Senate would recede avoiding a deadlock on the measure.

Crime to Speak German.

Belleville, Ill., April 4.—Speaking the German language in Belleville, Ill., is a misdemeanor. The city council of Belleville has passed a city ordinance forbidding the speaking of German. Offenders are liable to fine and imprisonment.

Wilson Thanks Later.

Washington, April 4.—In a letter to the war labor conference board thanking its members for their work in bringing about the present agreement between capital and labor looking to a prevention of strikes during the war, President Wilson declared the results attained would be highly serviceable to the country. He characterized the agreement as a fine example of spirit of co-operation and concession which is drawing our people together in this time of supreme crisis.

Kansas City Strike Settled.

Kansas City, Mo., April 4.—The general strike here growing out of the demands of laundry workers, ended when laundries took back their strikers employees with an increased minimum wage, but without union recognition. The general walkout involved 20,000 workers and tied up industries for seven days. A minimum wage of $9 a week was granted inside laundry workers, but no increase was given drivers. Mayor Edwards and Federal Mediator Patrick Gill effected the settlement.

FOE U-BOAT TOLL SHOWS BIG SLUMP

But Thirteen British Merchantmen Lost in Past Week From Mine and Submarine.

FIVE WAR CRAFT SUNK

Of Merchant Ships Lost Only Six Were Over 1,600 Tons—Italians Lose Three Large Merchant Vessels.

London, April 4.—The admiralty reports a sudden and marked decrease in the losses to British shipping through mine or submarine in the last week. Only six merchantmen of 1,600 tons or over and seven under that tonnage were sunk in the week ending March 30. Five fighting vessels were sent to the bottom.

The admiralty statement says:

"Fifteen British merchant vessels were unsuccessfully attacked by submarines.

Two More Sunk Previously.

"The large vessels reported sunk include one sunk during the week ending March 16, and the smaller vessels reported sunk include one during the week ending March 23.

"The arrivals during the week ending March 29 were 2,416 and the sailings 2,379."

The losses to British merchantmen through submarines and mines in the past week are less than one-half the losses in the previous week, when 28 merchantmen were sunk, 16 of the vessels over 1,600 tons.

A British Torpedo Boat Destroyer.

Two steamers were destroyed by submarines off the coast of Ireland early Sunday morning. It is officially announced. They were the Australian steamer Camargo and the Greek steamer Salamina.

The Camargo's crew of 50 men got away in the boats, the account states, but two of the boats were sunk by gun fire. The third boat containing 15 men was picked up. It is feared the others are lost.

At about the same time and place the Salamina was sunk by gunfire. Fifteen of its crew are missing.

The Big Italian Ships Lost.

Rome, April 4.—In the week ending March 30, Teutonic submarines sank three Italian steamships of more than 1,500 tons, and destroyed one sailing vessel of more than 100 tons, and nine sailing vessels of tonnage under that figure.

Two of Convoy Are Sent Down.

An Atlantic Port, April 4.—Officers of a British freight steamship which arrived here said that two steamships, part of a convoy to which their ship was attached, were sunk by German submarine shortly after leaving a British port.

TO BUILD LARGER VESSELS

Shipping Board Increases Size of Craft Projected.

Washington, April 4.—A general increase in the size of all ships built hereafter has been ordered by the shipping board. The tonnage of experimental concrete ships was increased to 7,500 tons and construction of three more at San Francisco was authorized.

Wooden ships hereafter will be 5,000 tons instead of 3,500 tons. Steel ships built on the Great Lakes will be 5,500 tons and construction of a 10,000-ton steel vessel on the lakes which would be brought through the Welland canal to the sea by cutting her in two and turning her over on her side is under construction.

The more economical operation of large ships was the deciding factor in making the change.

Vast extension of federal power over shipbuilding, ships, shipping rates, docks and terminals, has been asked of Congress.

WHY WASTE ONE'S LIFETIME?

After All, as Lincoln Said, the World Will Little Know Nor Long Remember.

In an article in the American Magazine one man says to another who was very sensitive and worried a great deal:

"Exactly," he grunted. "A few years ago they were live men like you and me. They grew up and did their business and loved and married and died. Some of them passed happily along their way, believing the best of their fellows, doing their jobs whole heartedly and well, spreading a bit of sunshine among the folks they came in contact with, extracting every drop of sweetness from every single day. And others went through, wrapped up inside their own little selves, envying their neighbors, fancying themselves abused, worrying over trifles, always on the lookout for slights, spoiling a full 50 per cent of their days through their own pettiness. And a few days pass, and they all are laid out here together, the men who laughed their way through life and made others laugh a little more, and the men who gnawed their hearts out. All lying side by side, never to live again.

"Think of the things that those dead men worried about. What do they amount to now? Think of the good luck that they envied in other fel lows. Who in the world remembers it? They had one little lifetime to live, and they spoiled it by over-sensitivity and jealousy. Doesn't it strike you as an awfully foolish way to waste a lifetime, when it's the only lifetime that you will ever have?"

LEANED TO NEWSPAPER WORK

Andrew Carnegie's Early Ambition Was to Be Great Editor—Burns Resisted Lure of Journalism.

Andrew Carnegie in his early days had an ambition to enter the newspaper business, but when he failed to obtain a position on the Pittsburgh Dispatch, he turned his talents in other directions and finally became America's leading iron and steel manufacturer.

Robert Burns, on the other hand, spurned efforts to induce him to go into journalism and thus made the way clear for his becoming the most beloved of Scottish bards. These points were brought out in an address given by William Will, president of the London Burns club.

Cracking Palm Nuts.

The first attempt to get Burns in the newspaper line was when Peter Stuart of the London Morning Post started the Star. Burns declined to give active assistance in turning out the paper, al though he occasionally contributed articles.

Later James Perry, proprietor of the London Morning Chronicle, offered Burns £5 a week to join the staff.

Burns refused the offer on the plea that his duties as an excise officer would prevent him from attending to the work. Nothing ever resulted, either, from the suggestions that Burns write a three-act comic opera.

Proper Care of Pet Fish.

Fish are not hard to raise. The greatest danger to which they are subjected in disease is the fungous growth that attacks the fins and tail. This can be detected by the dropping off of bits of the fins and tail, and by the tiny red streaks that mark the part that remains.

To treat, give the fish a bath in a strong solution of salt water, letting him remain in this until he flops over on his side. Repeat in the course of a day or two until the growth is checked.

For more severe cases, a weak solution of permanganate of potassium is used. Allow the fish to lie in this a minute or two, then replace in fresh water.—Kansas City Star.

22 MINES TO SHIP ON RANGE

Outlook Never Brighter for Mining Industry on Cuyuna Iron Range of Crow Wing County

DEVELOPMENT NEAR BRAINERD

Manganiferous Ores of Extreme Value —Cuyuna Range Tonnage Exceeded Vermillion

The Cuyuna iron range this season will boast of 22 shipping mines. The Cuyuna is coming into its own, in fact the tonnage last year exceeded that of the Vermillion range.

The manganiferous ores of the range have been tried out and have given satisfaction. The world war has forced American furnace men to turn their attention to home fields of manganiferous ores to meet their requirements instead of depending upon a slender source of shipments from Russia, India or Scandinavian countries. The Cuyuna-Mille Lacs mine of the American Manganese Co. is expected to produce heavily this year.

A promising field of iron ore has been mapped out at Brainerd and extending southward to Barrows and beyond. Within Brainerd city limits on lands owned by Henry Rosko, Sr., and others ore has been located. The Brainerd-Cuyuna Mining Co. found 60 per cent iron ore on its property a mile south of the Brainerd post office. At Barrows the Barrows mine for some period was operated while under lease to the M. A. Hanna Co. The Rowley mine has had considerable cement shaft work underway. Drills have operated in the vicinity of Fort Ripley and south.

East of Brainerd some eight miles at Woodrow the Omaha Mining Co. has installed dryers which will tend to greatly reduce the moisture in the ore content and thus add to the value of the ore. The mine worked steadily all winter and a good output is expected this season.

Open pit mines are stirring. Striping has been commenced at the North Thompson pit by the Inland Steel Co. This is on state leased ground and shipments in 1917 amounted to about 70,000 tons.

The Rowe pit has a body of ore to be reached by shaft and the pumps for unwatering the drainage shaft have been received.

The Mahnomen pit has resumed striping and expects to remove 250,000 tons of overburden. The Pennington pit is striping.

The Cuyuna range is remarkable insofar as it contains open pit and underground mines and lies in a fertile section of the state. The farming industry of the county is gradually extending and growing in importance.

With this is coupled the acquisition of tractors by farmers, the building of the new cooperative creamery in Brainerd, the fine record of the farmers' livestock shipping association, talk of a cheese factory and other industries.

There has been considerable activity in the acquisition of Brainerd real estate the last week according to rumors, although the parties acquiring the same are apparently carefully concealing their operations. It was reported that Linus H. Long of New York city and St. Paul, representing eastern interests, had acquired a large block of the choicest platted property in the city adjoining the proven iron formation as it passes through the city limits. He is further familiarizing himself with the iron country about Brainerd.

The Civic League gained $50 from its St. Patrick's day dance. Another will be given on Friday evening, April 12.

GERZIN SPEECH IS GERMAN MOVE

Opinion of U. S. and Allied Diplomats is Premier's Words Are New Peace Offensive.

NOT TO BE CONSIDERED

German Drive in West Having Failed. Object is to Bring Discontent Among People of Allied Countries.

Washington, April 4.—In the speech of Count Czernin, the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, American government officials and the Allied embassies see another Teutonic peace offering. Czernin declared that recently negotiations were near between the Austrian and Allied governments.

The move, evidently conceived in Germany, they said, was made just as it became certain that the German drive in the west had failed of its purpose, and was intended to bring discord among the Allied powers and to cause discontent among their populations.

Czernin Statements Unfounded. The foreign minister's statement that Premier Clemenceau of France had advanced a suggestion of peace discussions, and his reference to Alsace-Lorraine as a stumbling block, it was declared here, were designed to create the belief that the Allies' desire to recover Alsace-Lorraine for France is the only thing that stands in the way of peace.

Officials and members of the diplomatic corps were unanimous in their declarations that Czernin's statements had no basis of fact, and, further, that no peace suggestions coming from the Teutonic powers would be given consideration at this time. There was no disagreement in the conviction that Germany must be defeated by force of arms before the question of peace is taken up in any way.

Some believe that Czernin's speech is a forerunner of some declaration by the German government on the subject.

Czernin Answers Wilson's Speech. Count Czernin, the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister addressed a delegation from the Vienna city council, which waited on him in connection with what the burgomaster termed the "aggravated distress of the population," which is closely connected with the general political situation.

"With the conclusion of peace with Roumania the war in the east ended," he said. "Before, however, turning to individual peace treaties and discussing them in detail, I would like to revert to the declaration of the President of the United States, in which he replied to the speech delivered by me on January 24.

"In many parts of the world President Wilson's speech was interpreted as an attempt to drive a wedge between Vienna and Berlin. I do not believe that, because I have too high an opinion of the President of the United States and his outlook as a statesman, to believe him capable of such a way of thinking. President Wilson is no more able to ascribe dishonorable action to us than we to him."

Agrees With German Chancellor. "I can only say," he continued, "that I esteem it highly that the German chancellor, in his excellent speech of February 25, took the words out of my mouth declaring that the four principles in President Wilson's speech of February 11 formed the basis upon which a general peace could be discussed. I am in entire agreement with this."

"The four points laid down by the President are a suitable basis on which to begin the discussion for a general peace. Whether, however, the President will succeed in his endeavors to rally his Allies on this basis or not is a question.

"God is my witness that we have tried every thing possible to avoid a fresh offensive, but the Entente would not have it thus."

MAILING ORDER IS MODIFIED

Magazines to Go Only to Fighters Destined for Overseas.

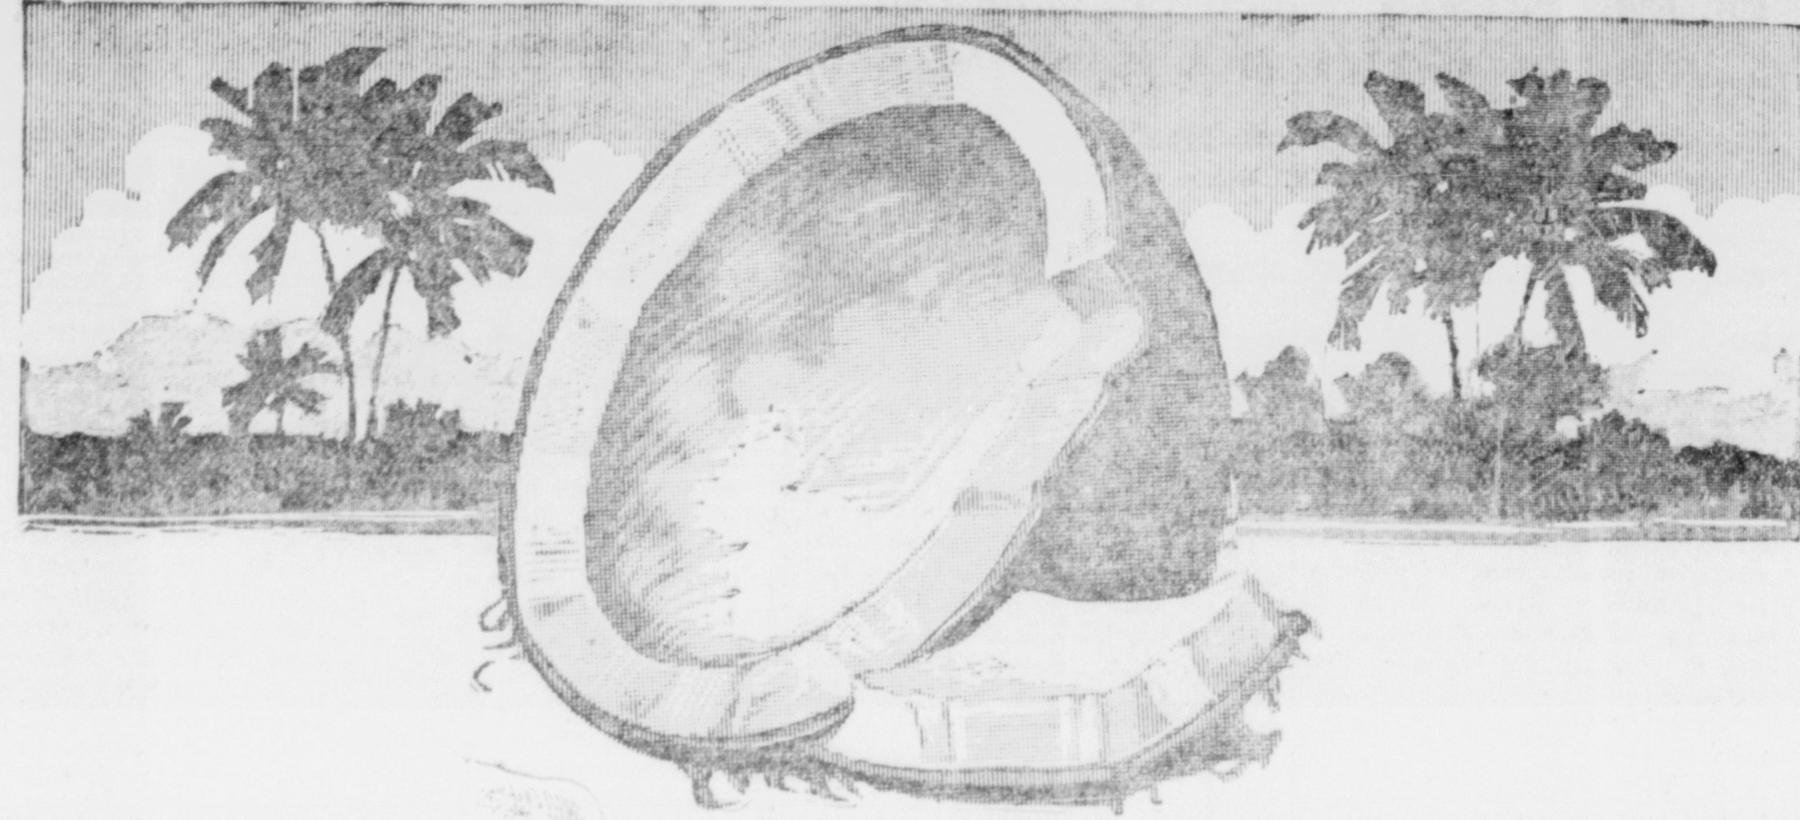

Washington, April 4.—Owing to the increased needs for transportation of munitions and supplies for the American troops in Europe, the Postoffice department has modified its order permitting mailing of unwrapped and unaddressed magazines to soldiers and sailors at the front for one cent a copy. The modification calls for the delivery of the magazines only to soldiers and sailors "destined to proceed overseas."

More Marines Available. Washington, April 4.—The War department has cabled General Pershing, at the suggestion of the marine corps, asking if he can absorb more American marines in his army. The marine corps has urged that several thousand trained marines at Paris Island, South Carolina, Quantico, Va., and League Island, Philadelphia, be included in the Pershing expeditionary forces. Science Solves the Butter Problem with Butter Made from the White Meat of Cocoanuts

Just when the price of butter threatens to make it an unattainable luxury, science perfects TROCO, the new vegetable butter made from the white meat of the cocoanut.

It tastes exactly like the finest creamy butter and is even more wholesome and pure.

It is churned with fresh Pasteurized milk to give true butter flavor.

TROCO

Can't Be Told From Butter

TROCO has all the good qualities of fine creamy butter. The only difference you will notice is the cost.

It is as nutritious as cream butter, and as easily digested. It possesses the fuel value needed for energy.

TROCO when served has butter's golden color, because we supply the same vegetable coloring used by all butter makers.

Served on your table, without explanation, no one can tell the difference.

Goes Farther In Cooking

TROCO, used in cooking, gives the same results as butter, except that it goes farther. Cooks should remember this and reduce the amount.

TROCO NUT BUTTER CO., Milwaukee, Wis.

Gamble Robinson Bemidji Co., Bemidji Distributors

NOTICE: Under the law, all butter substitutes must be branded Oleomargarine. That law was passed before TROCO was invented. So the TROCO package is branded "Oleomargarine" though there is no oleo in it. All butter substitutes must pay an extra tax if colored. So the color for TROCO comes in a capsule. Add it yourself, as you do with Oleomargarine.

It makes such cake as has not been known since butter soared in price.

It allows the old-fashioned "rich cooking" that builds up the family health.

Your Dealer Can Supply TROCO

If your dealer doesn't already keep TROCO, ask him to get it for you. Tell him you must have this new-day successor to butter.

Insist until he secures a supply.

For TROCO solves one of the biggest problems presented by our high food prices—

—The problem of serving appetizing, wholesome butter at a moderate cost.

Bargain Price For Broken Heart.

Dawson, Ill., April 4.—A "broken heart" is worth only $2.38 here, such was the verdict of a jury trying the breach of promise suit brought by Miss Myriam Cooper against Thomas Piddie. Miss Cooper asked $35,000 for heart balm. It took the jury five minutes to decide the case after the defendant proved he "wasn't always" mentally responsible. The Red Cross benefited by the trial to the extent of $80.50. The court permitted them to charge an admission fee from the public.

Frost as a Finish.

Frost gets a lot of blame when it kills off certain fruits and withers certain plants. Blackberries lose their lusciousness, and mushrooms fear to bloom, yet the housewife has much to be thankful for to Father Frost.

He it is who causes the celery to have that delightful crispness. No epicure would eat celery before it has been "frosted." And what dame with any knowledge would think of cutting a red cabbage for pickling before it had been touched with the cold nip of winter?

Many people refuse to eat Savoy cabbages before they have been given the sweetness of the frost, and parsnips have no flavor until they have been similarly treated.
